Autodesk, Math, AutoCAD, MatchMover,.Q: Read / write to GCS dynamically What is the best way to read/write a file to/from a Google Compute Storage Bucket? I'm expecting to have high write/read bandwidth in this case. A: If you are using the client-library, you can just create an object with the desired Storage Type.

For example if you want your file in Google Drive, then just create a DriveFile object:

com.google.api.services.drive.Drive drive =... com.google.api.services.drive.model.File file =... File fileToCreate = new File(); fileToCreate.setName("MyFile.txt"); fileToCreate.setMimeType("text/plain"); FileContent mediaContent = new FileContent("text/plain", "My file content"); fileToCreate.setContent(mediaContent); File fileToCreateDriveFile = drive.files().insert(fileToCreate).execute(); Alternatively, using the Google Cloud Storage java client, you can get the gsutil, which is a file protocol based client (see gsutil class). And the code to upload the file (assuming that you have a key) is: GcsFile file = new GcsFile.Builder() .mimeType(GcsFile.MimeType.TEXT) .content(new ByteArrayInputStream("Hello World".getBytes(Charsets.UTF_8))) .build(); Gcs gcsClient = GcsConfiguration.builder().projectId("YOUR_PROJECT
